AIM Mail Center

Aim Mail Center is an independently owned and operated shipping and business services center located in Edwardsville IL. The business employs the owner Mark Reed and one part time associate. As a shipping center AIM Mail Center can pack your packages, including fragile and delicate items such as dishes and jewelry and can ship them anywhere in the world. As a business center we offer full service copies in both b/w and/or color. We can also print flyers, banners, business cards and postcards and offer graphic design. Nothing is too big or small to pack and ship. Shipping packages for any of the carriers requires the use of proprietary software through the internet and since I only utilize one primary workstation I cannot afford to have down time on my computer system. When I first bought the franchise 8 years ago I was required to purchase my computer system through the franchisor. That system quickly became out dated and was not able to keep up with my growing business. I had met Jerry through a local networking group and though at the time of our meeting I had no need for his services, when it became time to upgrade my systems I relied on Jerry to put together a package of hardware and support systems for my business. Just this past month I had need to add another workstation and Jerry and ITA came through for me again — offering a system and support in a timely and cost efficient manner. The service from ITA is excellent. Several times I have had a computer performance issue and the staff at ITA were here on the spot quickly and resolved the issue in a very timely manner. Because I firmly believe in networking and supporting small local businesses, I have referred several of my friends and clients to ITA and all have been completely satisfied.
